Replacement information

Replacement products

IBM continues to be committed to providing customers with the ability to integrate and closely interoperate with SAP solutions. To reflect the latest strategy from both IBM and SAP, IBM is withdrawing Alloy from market. A transition is underway to move the integration technology to the recently released SAP Netweaver Gateway platform. The change will provide benefits to all customers leveraging SAP and Lotus® software as the integration scenarios can go beyond Workflow and Reporting, and provide flexibility around licensing terms.

Effective December 13, 2011, IBM will withdraw "Alloy by IBM and SAP" from marketing.

Replacement offerings will be determined on a case-by-case basis for customers.

Effective April 30, 2013, IBM will withdraw "Alloy by IBM and SAP" from service offerings. Customers will no longer be able to receive support for these offerings after that date.

The Lotus Connector for SAP Solutions will not be effected by this announcement and continues to be a supported option for IBM customers running Lotus Notes® and Lotus Domino® to integrate with SAP.
