Overview

IBM Mobile Connect V6.1.5 is a distributed, scalable, multipurpose communications software platform. IBM Mobile Connect is designed to help:

- Optimize bandwidth while reducing costs.
- Take advantage of security-rich features.
- Create a mobile Virtual Private Network (VPN) that can encrypt data over vulnerable wireless local area network (LAN) and wireless wide area network (WAN) connections.
- Efficiently extend existing instant messaging (IM) and enterprise applications to mobile workers.

New features

- A new Mobility Client for Android phones and tablets that run Android V4 (Ice Cream Sandwich). You get the same full VPN client optimized experience already available for Windows™, Mac OS X, Linux™, Windows Mobile, and Symbian expanding the choice of devices for the mobile workforce.
- An updated Mobility Client for Mac that provides 64-bit kernel support and removes the need to boot a Mac in 32-bit mode in order to use the Mobility Client with Mac OS X 10.6 and 10.8.

- An updated Connection Manager that provides 64-bit support for AIX® , Linux , and Windows . You can take advantage of current hardware and operating systems to better leverage 64-bit implementations.
- HTTP access services that now support single URL configuration and URL rewriting for various types of documents common to IBM Connections and other HTTP transaction-based applications. In addition, support for parsing certain document types, scanning for internal URLs, and rewriting them to force the traffic through the IBM Mobile Connect secure transport delivers additional flexibility.
- Applications such as IBM Connections Mobile, IBM Lotus® iNotes® , and others can now include documents with links to other internal sites and have those sites reachable through IBM Mobile Connect. Configuration is simplified and helps extend specific web-based solutions to the mobile workforce without exposing the entire intranet.
- Added support for connecting to multiple backend application servers (for example, IBM Lotus Notes® Traveler High Availability servers) in a single HTTP access service definition that enables improved deployment flexibility. You now get capabilities such as load balancing, failover, and URL pattern matching and substitution.
- Added support for IBM Connections Mobile and IBM Sametime® Mobile awareness and integration that provides support for detecting IBM Connections Mobile traffic, IBM Sametime Mobile traffic, and enables functions such as URL rewriting and single URL configuration. You get options such as photo lookup so you can use the same HTTP service definition improving the ease of configuration, deployment, and end-user capabilities.

Description

IBM Mobile Connect V6.1.5 is application agnostic and can be used in conjunction with many applications that are both web based (via clientless Virtual Private Network (VPN) and client based (via traditional VPN client) including IBM Lotus iNotes , IBM Lotus Notes Traveler, IBM Lotus Notes , IBM Sametime , IBM Connections, IBM WebSphere® Portal, and IBM Lotus Quickr® . You can encrypt business applications and extend them to mobile users using a desktop, laptop, or handheld mobile device outside of the traditional office while providing an additional layer of access security to enterprise applications whose infrastructure is located in corporate intranets.

IBM Mobile Connect helps protect sensitive information transmitted over wireless networks and allows mobile users to maintain session persistence through seamless network roaming. It also helps reduce mobile transmission costs and lowers connection fees through data optimization.

With IBM Mobile Connect, you can use an extensive list of standard Internet Protocol (IP) and non-IP wireless bearer networks, server hardware, device operating systems, and mobile security protocols. By creating a mobile VPN, IBM Mobile Connect goes well beyond the Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) level of security offered by other (mobile and nonmobile) products.

Limitations

Mobility Client is software that runs locally on user devices and offers a full-function interface to communicate with Connection Manager. Once Mobility Client authenticates to Connection Manager, a VPN is established and the device securely joins the enterprise intranet. Connection Manager supports standard IP routing (includes routing over non-IP wireless bearer networks) to help ensure unbroken, end-to-end Transmission Control Protocol (TCP) sessions between mobile devices and application servers. Mobility Client also includes a toolkit and application program interfaces to create network-aware applications. Limitations may apply to some devices.

Charge metrics definitions

Authorized User

Authorized User is a unit of measure by which the program can be licensed. An Authorized User is a unique person who is given access to the program. The program may be installed on any number of computers or servers and each Authorized User may have simultaneous access to any number of instances of the program at one time. Licensee must obtain separate, dedicated entitlements for each Authorized User accessing the program in any manner directly or indirectly (for example, via a multiplexing program, device, or application server) through any means. An entitlement for an Authorized User is unique to that Authorized User and may not be shared, nor may it be reassigned other than for the permanent transfer of the Authorized User entitlement to another person.

Note: Some programs may be licensed where devices are considered users. In that case, the following applies. Any computing device that requests the execution of or receives for execution a set of commands, procedures, or applications from the program or that is otherwise managed by the program is considered a separate user of the program and requires an entitlement as if that device were a person.
