Overview

IBM FileNet Image Manager Active Edition (IMAE) V5.1 includes the latest version (4.2) of IBM FileNet Image Services and IBM FileNet Content Manager (V5.1).

IMAE is an ideal way for FileNet Image Services users to extend their Enterprise Content Management (ECM) footprint into FileNet Content Manager.

IBM FileNet Content Manager has, for a number of years, included IBM FileNet Content Federation Services for Image Services (CFS-IS), which allows for the federation of content and metadata between FileNet Image Services and FileNet Content Manager. By including FileNet CFS-IS, you get the components needed to run FileNet Image Services and FileNet Content Manager applications in tandem.

Now that FileNet Image Services V4.2 and FileNet Content Manager V5.1 are included in IBM FileNet Image Manager Active Edition V5.1, users are able to federate content and metadata bi-directionally from FileNet Image Services into Content Manager (as has always been available) and now from FileNet Content Manager into FileNet Image Services.

Charge metrics definitions

User Value Unit (UVU)

UVU is the metric by which this program is licensed. UVU entitlements are based on the number of users for the given program. A Proof of Entitlement (PoE) must be obtained for the appropriate number of UVUs required for your environment as defined by the specific program terms. The UVU entitlements are specific to the program and may not be exchanged, interchanged, or aggregated with UVU entitlements of another software program. UVU licensing offers you price benefits for customers by enabling a lower cost of incremental growth of resources. To understand these benefits of UVU licensing, and to determine how many UVUs to obtain for the program, please contact your IBM representative.

The subject programs have a structure for licensing and pricing designed for clarity, simplicity and unity with other products in the IBM Enterprise Content Management portfolio. The former approach relied upon licensing servers and users - with users licensed on a Named, Concurrent, ebusiness, Employee and External basis. This has been replaced with a new approach based on Value Units (VU's), with a primary focus on user access.

User Value Units (UVUs)

Three types of UVUs are available:

1. Authorized (AUVU): For selective licensing of users who are internal to the organization. It replaces named, concurrent and ebusiness user licensing.
2. External (XUVU): For licensing of users who are external to the organization. It replaces external user licensing and ebusiness user licenses for certain products.
3. Employee (EUVU): For collectively licensing all users who are internal to the organization. It replaces Enterprise License Agreement (ELA) employee licensing.

Product pricing

Each product has a fixed price per UVU. Customers license the appropriate number of UVUs to provide access to a corresponding user population.

Cumulative volume discounting

As the user quantity increases, the number of UVUs increase albeit at a slower rate. Value Unit license conversion tables establish the required number of UVUs for a specified number of users.

Volume discounting examples:

- 100 authorized users require 85 AUVUs
- 1,000 authorized users require 600 AUVUs
- 5,000 authorized users require 2,500 AUVUs

Content Manager configuration example:

- Content Manager AUVU price = $Y per AUVU
- 5,000 authorized users require 2,500 AUVUs
- Total price = $Y x 2,500

IBM Electronic Services

IBM has transformed its delivery of hardware and software support services to help you achieve higher system availability. Electronic Services is a Web-enabled solution that offers an exclusive, no-additional-charge enhancement to the service and support available for IBM servers. These services are designed to provide the opportunity for greater system availability with faster problem resolution and preemptive monitoring. Electronic Services comprises two separate, but complementary, elements: Electronic Services news page and Electronic Services Agent.

The Electronic Services news page is a single Internet entry point that replaces the multiple entry points traditionally used to access IBM Internet services and support. The news page enables you to gain easier access to IBM resources for assistance in resolving technical problems.

The Electronic Service Agent™ is no-additional-charge software that resides on your server. It monitors events and transmits system inventory information to IBM on a periodic, client-defined timetable. The Electronic Service Agent automatically reports hardware problems to IBM. Early knowledge about potential problems enables IBM to deliver proactive service that may result in higher system availability and performance. In addition, information collected through the Service Agent is made available to IBM service support representatives when they help answer your questions or diagnose problems. Installation and use of IBM Electronic Service Agent for problem reporting enables IBM to provide better support and service for your IBM server.
